FIFTY-THIRD YEAR LINCOLN, NEB., SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 23, 1954 FIVE CENTS

NATION'S VOTE WILL BE HEAVY

Last-Day Rush— 52,649 VOTERS REGISTER HERE

A total of 691 persons poured into the office of the election commissioner on Friday, the last day for registering for the Nov. 2 general election.

This last minute burst, exactly the same number as the previous day, brought total registration up to 52,649. However, election officials estimate that up to possibly 5,000 of these persons are not properly registered and will not be able to vote.

45 Million Expected To Cast Ballots Next Month

Widespread Talk Of Apathy Is Disputed

74 Million Eligible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite widespread reports of voter apathy, state election and party officials look for a probable vote on Nov. 2 of around 45,115,000, an increase of 2,800,000 over the previous record for a mid-term election, in 1950.

These same officials estimated for the associated Press that 74,879,146 persons are eligible to vote for congressional and state candidates this year. This also is a record for a non-Presidential election year, being 4,924,668 higher than the 1950 qualified voter total, the last top.

It is normal, however, for both registrations and the vote to climb from one mid-term to the next because of the growth in "potential" voter population.

Potential of 100 Million

"The Census Bureau estimates the nation's vote potential — civilians 21 years of age and over — has climbed 3,200,000 since 1950 to 100,223,000. This is exclusive of an estimated 2,500,000 persons over 21 in the armed forces.

But it is interesting to note, in view of reports that voters generally are not excited over upcoming contests, that the 1954 probable vote estimate is around 60 per cent of the number estimated to be qualified to cast ballots, the same ratio as in 1950.

If the estimates of the probable vote are borne out, 39 states will top their 1950 total for House candidates, and 34 will show gains over their highest 1950 figure.

The nine states estimating smaller votes compared with their aggregate House ballots four years ago are Idaho, Indiana, Missouri, Ohio, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin. The 14 figuring lower balloting in contrast with their highest turnout in 1950 are Arizona, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Thirty-four states estimated gains over 1950 in the number of persons who have registered, paid poll taxes, or otherwise have met state voting requirements. Ten states, including New York, showed declines.

Four states — Iowa, Maine, Missouri and Wyoming — remained about the same.

Lattimore Prosecutor Makes Dramatic Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a dramatic courtroom scene, U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover Friday looked U. S. Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl in the face and told him he was "slanted" in favor of Owen Lattimore and against the government.

"If we are to have continued confidence in impartial justice in America, . . . I ask you under the law and the fundamental concepts of American democracy to withdraw from the case," Rover said. The judge had criticized, and thrown out, some of the original perjury charges against Lattimore.

Thurman Arnold, one of Lattimore's lawyers, said Rover, by accusing Youngdahl of bias and prejudice, was attempting "to manipulate the administration of justice" and trying "to subordinate the judiciary to the prosecuting arm of the government."

Youngdahl, a big, ruggedly handsome man, listened impassively as Rover and Arnold argued back and forth on whether he should disqualify himself.

Mouse-Still

The crowd that packed the courtroom, including an unusual number of lawyers, was mouse-still.

Lattimore and his wife, Eleanor, listened from the spectator section. He is the controversial Far Eastern affairs specialist accused of lying to a Senate Committee which branded him a promoter of Communist causes.

In the end, Judge Youngdahl said he will announce his ruling in a formal order, but did not say when.

Youngdahl, a three-term Republican governor of Minnesota who was appointed to the federal bench by former President Truman, said not a word he didn't have to. The only time he spoke was to tell a lawyer "You may proceed," to announce a five minute recess and to say he would issue an order later.

'Bias And Prejudice'

Technically, Friday's arguments were on various motions growing out of an affidavit of "personal bias and prejudice" filed by Rover against Youngdahl Oct. 13, and not on the affidavit itself. But they overflowed to take in almost everything connected with the case.

Arnold said, for example, that a two-count perjury indictment recently returned against Lattimore was "far more indefinite and vague" than the original indictment returned in December 1952.

The new indictment, Arnold said, is "so clearly bad that the case will never be tried."

Rover, a short, bouncy man with a booming voice, occasionally pounded the lectern with his fist for emphasis.

Forgotten Fortunes Pay Off

A total of 700 letters, 12 telegrams and four long distance calls have poured in in answer to the story of owners of Forgotten Fortunes in last Sunday's Journal and Star.

Fourteen of the 38 persons listed by Tracers Company of America have been located with their claims totaling $7,500.

The three-part series of articles is listing the names of persons who have forgotten they own valuable stock or have lost or mislaid the certificates.

Many Clippings

A former Lincolnite, Hildred Hodgson whose last address was 2710 Ryons, received many clippings from her Lincoln friends sent to her present residence in Los Angeles.

Marjorie M. Vant, whose last address listed was Hastings, found her own name on the list. She now lives in McCook.

General Delivery, Emmet, Neb., was the address listed for William P. Dailey. He was found at O'Neill.

Lives In Portland

Many persons sent information about Arthur B. Kneitel, formerly of Columbus. His brother, Carl, still lives in Columbus but Arthur now makes his home in Portland, Ore.

Carl said the stock involved was a $100 issue of a Delaware company which Arthur had in a safe deposit box in Columbus. Among those writing in about Arthur's claim was Marjorie Buller of 1432 G, who mailed the clipping to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Buller of Columbus.

Beatrice Woman An Heir

A Beatrice woman also learned through the Sunday Journal and Star that she is one of the heirs. Mrs. Viola Nicholson is heir to stocks owned by her former husband, Frank Shimerda, who died in 1938.

Her daughter, Mrs. Edith Shifflett of Beatrice, showed her the story which listed the name of Mr. Shimerda, formerly of Wilber. She said she isn't certain of what the stocks are, but that she and her husband owned some stocks in the 1930's. "We gave up any hope" of collecting dividends, she said.

Found in California

Walter Hasty of Cheyenne, Wyo., was found in Burlingame, Calif. Forrest L. Banion was found in Denver and Harold Baldwin at Lusk, Wyo. Both men were listed from Casper, Wyo.

The second list of persons who own valuable stocks will appear in this Sunday's Journal and Star.

Disarmament Talks Assured

Agreement Reached By East-West

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—In their first unanimous action on disarmament since 1946, the big Western powers, Canada and the Soviet Union Friday agreed on a plan for new secret talks on disarmament and prohibition of atomic and hydrogen bombs.

It appeared certain that the Political Committee of the U. N. Assembly will approve the resolution laid before it by the delegations of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union and the talks will begin soon among these powers.

Everyone agrees, however, that these negotiations face a long and hard road, with no guarantee of eventual agreement between East and West on these tremendous problems.

Warning Given

David M. Johnson, Canadian delegate, voiced this feeling in a speech announcing the agreement and warning against "hasty or irresponsible optimism."

He said the gap between East and West, especially on a method of control of any disarmament system, remains very wide and deep. But he said it is important that the five powers have agreed to co-sponsor the resolution and hailed this as an "acceptable next step" in the negotiations on disarmament.

James J. Wadsworth, United States delegate, said the United States welcomes the agreement on sponsoring the resolution and pledged the continued efforts of his government to work for achieving disarmament.

Wadsworth said the deliberations of the sub-committee will "test the extent of Russia's good faith" on this problem.

Four State Colleges Oppose Debate Topic

By the Associated Press

Nebraska colleges appeared divided Friday on whether they would accept the Speech Association of America debating question on Red China.

The question, which brought varied comment from college officials, is: Resolved, that the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China.

Comment against the question ranged from describing the topic as an "unfortunate selection" to a "punk" one.

Those taking the other side called it "timely, challenging and stimulating."

Schools not debating the issue will limit themselves in competition since it is a national question.

An Associated Press check showed that Kearney State College, the University of Omaha, Wayne State College and Peru State College were opposed to debating the issue.

Johnson Gives Demos' 84th Congress Plans ... Predicts Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ben H. Cowdery, publisher of the Omaha World-Herald, said Friday his investigation of failure to mention two radio stations in a story listing Omaha safety awards indicated the omission was inadvertent on the part of the news source.

Cowdery, president of the Herald Corp., was on the witness stand throughout the day at a communications commission hearing before Examiner Isadore Honig.

George E. Smith, counsel for KFAB inquired about a news story in the World-Herald on Omaha safety awards.

Cowdery said when he learned several months after the article was published that radio stations KFAB and KOWN were not listed, he made an inquiry and was told the names apparently inadvertently had been omitted by the person furnishing the information.

Cowdery said in reply to questions that it is not proposed to advertise the newspaper on the proposed television station.

He said reference to ownership of the TV station by the Herald Corp., as a subsidiary of the World-Herald would not be made on the station unless it was required legally by some regulation or law.

Cowdery said his newspaper had not charged for carrying logs of the Omaha radio stations and the World-Herald has no policy prohibiting a radio or television station from advertising in the newspaper.

McClelland Trial

said he did not observe any blood on McClelland's hands or clothes.

He also identified a can of shoe polish that he had loaned McClelland, with which it has been alleged the inmate polished his shoes on April 16.

Chair Leg, Knife

Sgt. Robert E. Nichols, State Safety Patrol criminal laboratory director, testified that on May 25 when McClelland "wanted to confess" that the inmate said "I killed John Claussen... I can prove it... ask me questions only the murderer can answer and I'll answer them right for you."

McClelland said a chair leg and pocket knife were used and described the weapons, Sgt. Nichols related to the jury.

Sgt. Nichols said McClelland told how they dragged Claussen behind the type cases, extracted $18 from his billfold, and how he slashed Claussen's throat, wiped the chair leg later and put it near a post.

Sgt. Nichols said he then told McClelland that "some details check, but I'll have to look into it further."

McClelland then said "By God, I'll prove I killed Claussen. I'll tell you where my share of the money is," Sgt. Nichols said.

Sgt. Nichols said McClelland related how he gave the money to inmate Harvey Durbin to keep for him.

(The $8 allegedly given Durbin was later recovered in a medicine jar that night from Durbin's cell.)

Sgt. Nichols said that on June 15 when questioned why he first implicated Wesley Perry (another inmate) that McClelland explained that he and DeYonghe "were married."

Sgt. Nichols said the homosexual relationship between McClelland and DeYonghe was common knowledge according to McClelland. "I know it's hard for you to understand, sergeant," McClelland allegedly said, "but I was trying to protect my wife (DeYonghe)."

On cross-examination Sgt. Nichols testified to giving McClelland two lie detector tests on April 17, but that he considered the result "inconclusive."

"In fact," the defense charged, "wasn't McClelland released after the tests... released back to work?"

"I can't remember," Sgt. Nichols replied. "I don't know that he was."

Sgt. Nichols said he considered the tests "inconclusive" because McClelland said he had "taken eight pills" prior to the first test and that McClelland physically attempted "to beat the test" on the second test.

The test charts and questions were introduced in evidence by the defense.

Dr. Frank H. Tanner, who performed an autopsy on Claussen's body, attributed cause of death primarily to blows on the head with the throat cutting a contributing factor.

Dr. Tanner said the skull was fractured and there were two wounds on the head: A three-cornered wound on top and a long vertical wound on the back.

At the close of Friday's session, Judge Harry Spencer recessed the trial until 9 a.m. Monday.

RECREATION PROGRAM TOLD

A spanking new recreational program was unveiled at the Malone Community Center open house at 23rd and T.

LaJune S. McCamey was program director in charge of the open house.

Prison Problems Called Forgotten

The problem of prisoners and prison populations is an almost forgotten problem in an era when persons have become conscious of minority problems, Dr. Caleb Foote said.

Dr. Foote, associate professor at the University of Nebraska, was guest speaker at the opening session of the 77th annual Iowa Unitarian Conference meeting at All Souls Church here.

"We have applied scientific information to the problem of criminal investigation and the detection of crime," he said, "but we have made no parallel advances in studying the problem of criminal treatment and what should be done with persons who are convicted as criminals."

The Bill of Rights and criminal law throw elaborate protections around persons accused of crimes, he said, but no comparable protection or investigation is given to persons who have once been convicted.

More than 200 persons from Nebraska, Iowa, and western Missouri will attend conference sessions which continue all day Saturday.

The Weatherly Memorial Library in the church will be dedicated Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Dudley Moore, home projects director of the Unitarian service committee, will address the evening banquet.

Thieves Take Safe And $950

Leads to a safe containing about $950 in cash and checks and $100 worth of narcotics were being sought by police early Saturday morning. The safe was taken from the Smith Pharmacy, 2146 Vine.

Lawrence Smith, 3600 Garfield, owner of the drugstore, told officers he noticed differences in the arrangement of his prescription room when he arrived at work Friday, and then noted the absence of the small 200 pound black safe from beneath a desk where it was kept. Also in the safe were insurance policies and personal papers.

The intruders entered, police said, by forcing a double door at the rear of the store, after parking their car or truck in an adjacent parking lot.

Burglars gained nothing in two other burglaries Thursday night, police said. Desks and cabinets were ransacked at both the Weaver Potato Chip Co., 610 L, and the Griswold Seed Company, 6400 Cornhusker Highway.

$50 Taken In Hotel

An Omaha man, Harvey R. Wade, reported to police that about $50 was taken from his billfold as he slept in his downtown hotel room.

Saar Deadlock Still Unbroken

GERMANY INVITATION HELD UP

PARIS (Saturday) (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France of France and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer conferred until 2:50 a. m. in an effort to remove the Saar roadblock to Germany's entry into the Atlantic alliance.

The 14 NATO nations voted Friday to invite Western Germany to share as a full partner in their highest military councils and diplomatic secrets. Almost immediately, ately however, the historic decision became snagged on the bitter and ancient rivalry between Teuton and Gaul over the Saarland.

Premier Mendes-France, backed up a formal decision of his Cabinet, announced he would not sign the agreement admitting West Germany, or any of the other agreements being reached here on Western defense, until the Saar dispute was settled.

British foreign secretary Sir Anthony Eden, in a last-minute effort to smooth over the difficulty, invited Adenauer and Mendes-France to a dinner conference.

Talked 5 hours They talked for five hours at the British Embassy, and then the two diplomats announced only that they had been able to make progress on some political points, very little on economic phases. They said they were to meet again at 4:30 a. m., EST Saturday at the French Premier's office.

At that time they will again attempt to come to an agreement that will permit the signing of the various accords. A ceremony scheduled to take place at 2:45 p. m.

Mendes-France said there was good will on both sides but that they had to stop their talks for lack of technical information.

Ranch-Size The deadlock over a piece of territory scarcely bigger than a big Texas ranch threatened to wreck the carefully laid plans to have three important new agreements signed Saturday afternoon—agreements designed to make Western Germany the 15th member of NATO and to tie Western European and American powers together in a friendly cultural, military and political family.

Enormous pressure was being brought on both countries to come to an agreement on sharing the coal and steel riches of the Saar Valley where about a million people live. They were grimly aware in a late afternoon session of the North Atlantic Treaty Council that their dispute threatened to slow down or wreck four years of effort to ally Germany firmly with the West.

Speaking For The Negative

It is not difficult to understand and to sympathize with the reaction expressed by Dr. Herbert L. Cushing, president of the Nebraska State Teachers College at Kearney, to a question submitted for intercollegiate debate.

The question:

Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China.

If busy youngsters are to spend their time and energies usefully, they had much better be devoting research to other fields. There is about as much merit to suggesting American recognition of the Communist government of China in the present tenor of American thinking as there would be to inviting the same regime to land armed forces on American soil.

We want no trucking with Communist China at this time or in the foreseeable future.

Dr. Cushing, however, may be overlooking a grand opportunity to strike a blow for freedom. Why not permit Kearney State Teachers to speak in the negative? Now, there is a tailor-made subject into which anybody may sink his teeth. Dr. Cushing could be right, but he should make sure that he hasn't fallen a victim of the Halloween spirit when he writes a fellow educator that back of this question submitted for debate is a bit of a desire on the part of somebody to indoctrinate a few thousand American youth with a dangerous philosophy. Are we seeing witches and hobgoblins?

WASHINGTON — A significant backstage hassle has developed over the right to entertain — and be photographed! — William V. S. Tubman, negro president of the Negro Republic of Liberia.

Climax of the hassle is an invitation to President Tubman from Governor Dewey calculated to keep him away from Hyde Park and the laying of a wreath on Roosevelt's tomb. As of this writing, pleased but harried President Tubman doesn't quite know what to do.

A Republican president brought him to the U.S.A., so he feels he has to bow to the wishes of his hosts. On the other hand, the late President Roosevelt is a great hero in Liberia — in fact, the only president of the United States to visit Liberia. So President Tubman's advisers are suggesting that he had best go to Roosevelt's tomb at Hyde Park even if it does lose some Negro votes to the Republican party on November 2.

Meanwhile, the rush to welcome and be photographed with the President of Liberia has been such that the entourage of Mohammed Ali, prime minister of Pakistan, are not at all happy.

Mohammed Ali, arriving in Washington a few days ahead of President Tubman, was not greeted by Eisenhower and got nowhere near the same enthusiastic attention.

This does not go down particularly well with our strongest ally in the Middle East. The U.S.A. is spending up to about $100,000,000 on arms, food and other aid to Pakistan in order to insure the Russian-Indian-Pakistan border against Communist penetration. A strong Pakistan, we hope, will offset the neutral Nehru and the uncertain policies of Burma, Ceylon and Indonesia.

Make Political Hay With Visiting Elite

speeches in Denver and Indianapolis.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Official reason for President Tubman's visit to the U. S. is to get a $400,000 aid program extended. (I predict he would have gotten it without coming.) ... He's also up for re-election to a third term, after being in office 11 years.

Tubman, a realist, is under no delusion regarding his sudden popularity with Eisenhower officials. He understands politics as well as Postmaster General Summerfield ... also he has some expert advisers, including Carl Murphy, publisher of the Aero-American, and Mrs. Robert Vann, publisher of the Pittsburgh Courier, two of the biggest negro papers in the world. They oppose Tubman's acceptance of too many of the political invitations now deluging him from almost every major GOP politician east of the Mississippi.

... at present, Tubman's schedule, still incomplete, calls for a two-week swing through Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and New York, all having heavy negro populations which usually vote Democratic.

... American negro advisers fear a political tour may harm the dignity of the negro nation which American negroes founded. But President Tubman is being pulled in the opposite direction by Republic Steel and Firestone Rubber, with large interests in both Liberia and the Eisenhower administration.

... E. S. Bowdoin of Republic Steel and Douglass are whispering persuasive words to the effect that President Tubman must make a tour of all big negro areas in the U.S.

... (Republic Steel's Jim Black is one of Ike's closest friends, while Firestone has its Washington attorney, Edward F. Howry, on the Federal Trade Commission.)

Ives Campaign Lags

NEW YORK—The way New York state Republicans look at it, they are the victims of a political ground swell that is appearing all over the country. They feel it is not directed at their candidates personally or at the Dewey administration.

They will argue vehemently that the polls now running so surprisingly strongly against them are highly exaggerated. But the swell is admitted and they have found it difficult to combat, more difficult actually, they think, than if it were worse.

The present personal attacks against Averell Harriman, Democratic nominee for governor, are their answer.

These attacks are off to a slow start and go back 24 years—a distance which seems even longer to a generation which has known a major depression and world war. It is said at GOP headquarters that they will build to a smashing climax and a final summation that will have massive impact on the voters.

"Don't judge our strategy by the first few chapters," a responsible source urged. "In the end we will have 'I can pay for it Averell' nailed to the mast."

The adverse polls coincided with a truly alarming phenomenon in the effort of Sen. Irving Ives to succeed Gov. Dewey at Albany. Ives is an upstater and he has always been an excellent vote-getter. But he was failing to attract crowds and to inspire the party organization to greater efforts.

It was felt that Carmine Desapio, present Tammany leader, would probably succeed in getting out the voters in New York City for the Harriman ticket, especially as it includes Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., for attorney general. The upstate apathy therefore seemed exceedingly ominous.

The new strategy bears all the earmarks of Thomas E. Dewey. He should not lack for material. He began his career with the federal district attorney and had time for a good hard look at the skeletons in New York closets when he was district attorney of New York County. He has been governor three times.

Now his files apparently are being emptied for Ives as he himself never felt the need for emptying them. It will be an expert presentation though it already is evident that Ives, a genuinely mild man, cannot possibly give it the fierce and glossy Dewey touch.

The attack represents a baptism of fire for the tyro, Harriman, who has not before run for elective office. He is angry but calm, so far. Perhaps he can influence the effect of the Ives charges by the way he handles himself and shapes his answers.

The amateurs are much in evidence around him but Judge Sam Rosenman, the elder Roosevelt's expert ghostwriter, is there. There are also shrewd men available to Harriman like David Dubinsky, the labor leader, and lawyer Monroe Goldwater, law partner of the late Boss Flynn of the Bronx.

President Eisenhower is in town for two days for some non-political speeches and a good deal of politicking on the side. It is hoped that he will put some stamina and speed into the organization. His congressional fortunes are not directly involved; if Ives is beaten for governor he will return to the Senate; if he wins he will appoint an Eisenhower Republican.

But New York is the pivot on which national conventions swing. The Dewey people will do much to hold control of it.

Turn Of The Tide

McConaughy's waters were rising again, good news to all those Nebraskans who looked to them to satisfy the thirst of thousands of thirsty acres of Nebraska land.

In a summer of intense heat and deficient rainfall, McConaughy played the role of good neighbor to scores and scores of cornfields in the Platte Valley. Thanks to a near-capacity storage in the early spring of 1954, the lake was able to meet all demands placed upon it for irrigation water, and in this fashion it contributed generously to Nebraska's 1954 production. On October 2 the storage in Lake McConaughy was 1,038,700 acre-feet, approximately half of the huge reservoir's capacity. It was 554,000 acre-feet below the high storage mark last spring.

Now, with irrigation needs satisfied for the 1954 season, storage starts again. Throughout all the days of late fall, winter and on into the spring, the North Platte River and its twin, the South Platte, will continue to dump their waters into Lake McConaughy. Just now stream flow is below normal. But with the storage season under full steam, it is surprising how much water can be saved for beneficial use as it piles up silently against a dam every second of the minute, every minute of the hour, and every hour of the day in daylight and darkness.

McConaughy, Nebraskans will recall, is the lake which would be dry half the time, so a private utility group told the people. It has never been dry since storage began. Neither has it been filled to capacity for the simple reason that those in charge of McConaughy wanted to allow plenty of time for seasoning. But its usefulness has been established beyond question. It will have paid for itself many times over by the time that the debt incurred in its construction has been wiped out under a carefully arranged program of amortization.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

In a long, melancholy, sorrowful discussion of what it calls the "uninterested vote," an Omaha newspaper concludes with these words: "Here in Nebraska where there is a clearcut choice between candidates, where Republicans have not talked like New Dealers, there is small chance of losing the 'uninterested' conservative vote. But elsewhere conditions may be right to prove the theory of an uninterested reactionary vote—and lose the election." This is not a case of damning by faint praise. Joyously, enthusiastically the Omaha paper would have Nebraskans believe that Nebraska's congressional delegation—from top to bottom—would gladly wipe out everything that happened in the last 20 years.

That is rather a broad statement. If the average Nebraskan were asked to approve legislation wiping out the holding company act, regulation of the stock market, return to the so-called Hoover farm policies, abandonment of rural electrification, or any one of a dozen other pillars of a growing society, we believe the people of this state would raise their hands in holy horror. They have lived with many of these innovations and reforms which came to American political life, and in their calmer hours of retrospection 75 per cent of the people of this state know that the changes that have taken place were in the right direction and were in the interests of the American people. We admit that the congressional campaign of 1954 has been characterized by apathy—an understandable apathy. There is always apathy where there is confusion. There is something about the American voter which causes him to become weary, terribly weary, when the air is filled with name-calling. But to say that the thorough-going conservatism of Nebraska's congressional delegation endears it to Nebraskans is to ignore the fact that in the rural areas of this state thousands of fine farm people, to put it in the most moderate words, are puzzled and apprehensive when they discover their incomes to be dropping steadily while the prices of everything they buy continue to rise.

The week from October 17 through October 24 has been set aside for national observance of the institution of the United Nations.

Not many communities have prepared elaborate ceremonies for the event but there are few, if any citizens, who are not aware of its influence in their lives and most of them have accepted it in principle even though some would take issue with its results.

The world has become too small for isolationism and its problems have become too large to be settled by any one nation. Whether or no, the necessity of cooperation and the impossibility of non-cooperation will win its case over wishful opposite thinking. And the United Nations offers a suitable field for the practice and refinement of international cooperation which will ultimately mature as a place where every nation can practice its rightful sovereignty without encroaching on that of its neighbor.

The United Nations

When President Tubman's itinerary was first arranged, the morning of Sunday, Oct. 31, was set to visit Hyde Park and lay a wreath on the tomb of Franklin Roosevelt, who, because of his wartime visit to Monrovia, remains a great hero to the Liberian people.

On top of this, however, Gov. Dewey suddenly issued an invitation to lunch in New York City on Sunday — exactly the same time President Tubman was scheduled to be visiting with Mrs. Roosevelt in Hyde Park. The Dewey invitation includes a round of ceremonies in New York which would make it impossible for the Liberian president to visit Hyde Park. The trip to Hyde Park was scheduled some time ago, and Dewey's office was apprised of this in advance.

Apparently to spike it, he sent an official invitation to President Tubman to accompany him on a ceremonial tour of New York City. Perhaps he had heard that Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., now a candidate for attorney general of New York, would be at Hyde Park.

Voluntary Giving

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Who among us is to judge another's capabilities for giving to the Community Chest? Today my husband came home with the news that he "must" give $12—or else.

Now, $12 will feed our family of four for one whole week or buy milk for a whole month. There is no television set in our home, no rugs on our floors, certainly no steak on our table, and for entertainment in the last year we have seen one movie. Fortunately my husband and I can still wear the clothing we owned before our marriage, and a wonderful grandmother provides our children with most of their clothing.

There is no doubt that the combined Community Chest agencies do a great service to our entire nation. Just how far should one go in jeopardizing the security of our home? Our purse cannot yield $12 for their cause.

Trickle Inverted

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Who does Roman Hruska think he is fooling when he states that they cannot build up in 20 months what the New Deal tore down in 20 years? In 1933 my 900-acre ranch was being sold for taxes. I had my grain bins full of rye, barley and oats, and 3,000 bushels of corn in the field. I hauled 100 bushels of barley to North Platte and got $12. Had a minor repair bill on the truck that cost $12. I charged the gas bill to Hoover and tried again.

I found a feeder 21 miles away who would buy snapped corn at 20 cents per cwt., and a trucker who would haul the corn for 10 cents per cwt. So I hired two men and we snapped 50,000 pounds of corn. I paid the trucker, the men and the grocery bill and had three dollars left, with the taxes still unpaid, our daughter trying to get through business college, and two in high school. We had 283 acres of crop land, cut over 400 acres of hay land, and a large tonnage of other feeds, raised 150 head of hogs a year and ran about 80 cattle, and with a sideline of feed crop seeds and potatoes, our hours of labor were beyond human endurance. The doctors ordered me to quit work and stay away from haystacks and threshers.

I learned the hard way that the Hoover trickle would not keep my three daughters in school nor pay my taxes and interest. The New Deal came along and turned the funnel upside down and the trickle was replaced by a generous, widespread trend of prosperity, hope and faith, and 10 years later in 1943, I handed my banker a check for deposit. I wonder what Mr. Hruska thinks my account would have been if Hoover had been elected.

Proposed Amendments

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The November election isn't far away and the voters over the state should turn out 100 per cent. Many issues are before us for approval or rejection. Of special interest are the constitutional amendments, and if the voters want to retain our now constitutional rights, they should vote "no" on all of them. If they carry, we will have told the Legislature that they can pass laws which we don't need and don't want. The present constitution has many safeguards for our protection and we should retain them.

We ought to declare an open season on propagandists.

What is that "much" that remains to be done? For one thing, the whole question of the reciprocal trading agreement program in which the President was defeated by his own party in the 83rd Congress must be threshed out again, since the present agreements expire on the closing day of next June. And the President, tasting defeat because of the opposition of the conservative bloc of his own party, is asking for a stronger Republican Congress to carry out the works that remain to be done. There are powerful pressure groups interested in another revision of the tax law, on 872 revised tax law, hoping to get the attention they did not receive in the 83rd Congress. There is the whole broad field of peacetime application of atomic energy to be spelled out. The farm battle has not ended. It has only begun. And then there is this issue raised by the Dixon-Yates contract in Uncle Sam's newly formulated partnership with the "friendly" private utilities crying to high heaven for attention. Mr. Eisenhower did say he would submit his health program, which the 83rd Congress rejected.

Nebraska is getting "too big for its britches." Departments of state government have complained to Gov. Robert Crosby that employees are practically "sitting in each other's laps" now and question how they will be able to function after arrival of the Legislature.

It was believed that ample room would be provided when the Nebraska Historical Society moved to the new building but already requests for added space are being made.

The governor forsook his normal role this week and under his title of custodian of the Capitol toured the building in search of unused space or places where too much space is allotted to occupants.

In one office, a woman employee demonstrated that to get to her desk it was necessary for her to slide in sideways. It was the diplomatic Bob Crosby. No hints on how to reduce were offered. But the Sower observed that such treatment would not have solved the problem.

The inspection revealed that hidden stairways have been removed already to provide more office space.

The housing problem is not peculiar to Nebraska. In many of the state capitols the Sower has visited in recent years, office buildings have been erected nearby.

In one state a number of former residences across the street from the statehouse had been purchased by the state and been remodeled to house different departments.

In Louisiana, where the capitol is newer than Nebraska's, one office building is already in use and another is being constructed. It was pointed out to us that the saving in rent for downtown offices would soon pay for the new building.

Nebraska is now renting office space and it appears that in the immediate future an office building will have to be built and rent savings should make it a good investment.

The Quiet Man

A masked man who walked into the First State Bank of Scottsbluff Neb., Tuesday and held it up for $58,152 was a symbol of a new and growing trend in bank robberies. "The quiet, single-handed amateur, often working alone, has replaced the tommy-gun-toting professionals," the Wall Street Journal has said. In our own area, single-handed stickups of banks have been liberally dotted among the rash of such crimes in recent months.

It was lone bandits who stuck up the Baden Bank of St. Louis for $1,000 in February, the Rock City (Ill.) Bank for $2,000 in July, the Bank of Leadwood, Mo., for $3,000 in August, the Southern Commercial and Savings Bank in St. Louis for $31,130 in September, and the Bank of Tusculum, Mo., for $1,500 this month. And holdups by two or more bandits this year have taken $21,803 from the Bank of Wright City, $27,700 from the First National Bank of Homer, Ill., $15,500 from the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Eureka, in St. Louis county, and some $40,000 from the Bank of Pevely—among many others.

Since constantly improving safety devices have not managed to check the wave, authorities might look more deeply into the unsafely devices within the bank robbers themselves. What is it that is producing so many of them, and sometimes from such unlikely material that a Pinkerton's man complains. "Almost anybody will hold up a bank today?" The least-explored method of attack upon the problem is still that of checking bank robberies by improving conditions that make people bank robbers.

The Quiet Man

A masked man who walked into the First State Bank of Scottsbluff Neb., Tuesday and held it up for $58,152 was a symbol of a new and growing trend in bank robberies. "The quiet, single-handed amateur, often working alone, has replaced the tommy-gun-toting professionals," the Wall Street Journal has said. In our own area, single-handed stickups of banks have been liberally dotted among the rash of such crimes in recent months.

Nebraska is getting "too big for its britches." Departments of state government have complained to Gov. Robert Crosby that employees are practically "sitting in each other's laps" now and question how they will be able to function after arrival of the Legislature.

It was believed that ample room would be provided when the Nebraska Historical Society moved to the new building but already requests for added space are being made.

The governor forsook his normal role this week and under his title of custodian of the Capitol toured the building in search of unused space or places where too much space is allotted to occupants.

In one office, a woman employee demonstrated that to get to her desk it was necessary for her to slide in sideways. It was the diplomatic Bob Crosby. No hints on how to reduce were offered. But the Sower observed that such treatment would not have solved the problem.

The inspection revealed that hidden stairways have been removed already to provide more office space.

The housing problem is not peculiar to Nebraska. In many of the state capitols the Sower has visited in recent years, office buildings have been erected nearby.

In one state a number of former residences across the street from the statehouse had been purchased by the state and been remodeled to house different departments.

In Louisiana, where the capitol is newer than Nebraska's, one office building is already in use and another is being constructed. It was pointed out to us that the saving in rent for downtown offices would soon pay for the new building.

Nebraska is now renting office space and it appears that in the immediate future an office building will have to be built and rent savings should make it a good investment.

What Remains To Be Done

What is that "much" that remains to be done? For one thing, the whole question of the reciprocal trading agreement program in which the President was defeated by his own party in the 83rd Congress must be threshed out again, since the present agreements expire on the closing day of next June. And the President, tasting defeat because of the opposition of the conservative bloc of his own party, is asking for a stronger Republican Congress to carry out the works that remain to be done. There are powerful pressure groups interested in another revision of the tax law, on 872 revised tax law, hoping to get the attention they did not receive in the 83rd Congress. There is the whole broad field of peacetime application of atomic energy to be spelled out. The farm battle has not ended. It has only begun. And then there is this issue raised by the Dixon-Yates contract in Uncle Sam's newly formulated partnership with the "friendly" private utilities crying to high heaven for attention. Mr. Eisenhower did say he would submit his health program, which the 83rd Congress rejected.

LargeCanningCompany Eyes Nebraska Location

... 6,000 Acres Needed To Grow Vegetables

One of the nation's largest canning companies may be interested in locating in south central Nebraska, C. V. Price, chief of the Nebraska Resources Division, disclosed Friday.

Should such a cannery be built, it would expect to employ about 2,000 persons the year around, he said.

The company has asked the Resources Division for detailed information on whether farmers in the area would be interested in growing the vegetable crops. Also asked is information on average irrigated yields for tomatoes, potatoes, sweet corn, carrots, beans and peas.

Meetings With Farmers
To obtain the information, the division will hold meetings with farmers in Adams, Buffalo, Dawson, Hall, Kearney and Phelps Counties.

County extension agents and Chambers of Commerce are co-operating in arranging the meetings, which are to be completed by mid-November, Price said.

More than 6,000 acres of land would be needed to grow vegetables for the cannery.

Information meetings arranged so far include one at Hastings Nov. 17 and one at Kearney Oct. 27, Price said.

"We have been in touch with this prospect for several years but the company is just now getting around to seriously considering this area as a possibility," he said.

"Nebraska has a fine opportunity in this instance to add materially to its economy, first by planting stable crops in the irrigated areas, perhaps on acres re-

Meet Called In Effort To Save Northern Rail Service

One Train Daily Serves Area

CRAWFORD, Neb. (U)—President Lloyd Pipher of the Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce has called a meeting at Valentine Oct. 28 in an effort to "save the Chicago and Northwestern passenger service" on the Omaha-Chadron line.

Pipher announced Friday that Vice-President J. E. Goodwin of Chicago or some representative of his Northwestern office staff would attend the meeting. The WNUCC president obtained this assurance in a phone call to O. N. Holmberg, an assistant vice-president of the C&NW.

"The meeting is an outgrowth of the announcement earlier this week that the Northwestern may soon apply to the Nebraska Railway Commission to discontinue the passenger service (one train each way daily) between Omaha and Chadron. Goodwin was quoted as saying that the two trains, Nos. 13 and 14, are losing the company well over $80,000 annually.

Some opponents of the proposed move along the 447 mile line have charged that the C&NW has not kept abreast of the demands of the public and has not adjusted its service and equipment to changing times.

Pipher said he called the meeting to see if "we can't prevent the loss of this important train service." He said representatives from towns all the way from Norfolk to Harrison are being invited to the Valentine meeting, as well as from Martin, S. D.

"There may be something we can do to help the North Western or to encourage the railroad to provide the type of service the people will patronize," Pipher said. "At any rate, the Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce hopes to bring all parties together for a discussion of the problem."

The Northwestern discontinued passenger service west of Chadron about four years ago and pulled of passenger trains between Chadron and Rapid City not long ago.

Package May Link Gore To 2nd Robbery

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (U)—Sheriff Steve Warrick said he is holding hope that arrival of a package from Grand Island will link Joe Derl Gore, 19, to a $10,000 burglary of the Forrest Motor Co., here last Monday.

Gore has, the sheriff said, already confessed to the $58,142 robbery of the Scottsbluff First State Bank the morning after the motor company was broken into and three diamond rings, reported worth $10,000, and about $400 in cash taken.

Consents To Inspection

The package Warrick is waiting for is one sent by Gore from here to Grand Island. Gore said it contained clothing and toilet articles and consented readily to having it returned here for inspection.

Gore is in the county jail at Gering with a federal charge of bank robbery against him.

Gore was captured Tuesday night at Bayard with the money from the bank intact in a suitcase and Thursday made a 19-page statement to FBI agents, the sheriff said.

REA Is Studying $9 Million Project Loans

WASHINGTON (U) — The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) said Friday it is considering loans for a nine-million-dollar project to supply more electric power to the western slope of Colorado.

REA said a week-long conference had been concluded here with representatives of one of the big Western Electric cooperatives, the Colorado Ute Electric association, and the Western Colorado Power Co. a privately owned utility.

It said the discussions covered a proposal to construct a new generation and transmission system to be financed by REA.

The agency said the proposal includes a steam generation plant of the 20,000 kilowatt class and about 150 miles of transmission lines with the new system possibly hooked into the existing private power system in order to cut costs.

Two Normal Board Members Reappointed

Two members of the State Normal School Board have been reappointed for six-year terms, by Gov. Robert Crorey.

They are Ernest M. Johnson of Chadron and A. D. Majors of Omaha.

Johnson went on the board last November to fill the unexpired term of the late E. D. Crites of Chadron.

Major has been on the board since 1947.

The governor also named A. W. Devereaux of Omaha as an alternate member of the Appeals Tribunal for the Division of Employment Security.

Devereaux, who is with the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, will represent employers on the tribunal.

REA said no site for the plant had been selected pending additional engineering studies.

The Ute association was represented here by George Wilson of Nucla, Secretary; Ray Moses of Alamosa, attorney; F. E. Larimore of Chicago, engineer, and Ivan Patterson, manager of Empire Electric Assn. Inc., one of the several Rural coops in the association.

Representing the Western Colorado Power Co. were E. M. Naughton, president; George R. Corey, attorney; Allan Hunter, engineer, and J. A. Bullock, vice president and general manager.

REA said the Ute co-operative is one of three large rural electric groups in Colorado seeking to construct their own generation and transmission facilities at a cost estimated at nearly 40 million dollars.

The other groups are the Tri-State Generation and Transmission assn. composed of co-ops in Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska, and the Southeast Colorado.

OMAHA (U) — A brother of the late Magr. Edward J. Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, has asked that the famed priest's name no longer be used to identify a Knights of Columbus council.

The request was in a letter from Magr. Patrick A. Flanagan to John F. Krecji, a grand knight of the Father Flanagan of Boys Town Council of the Knights of Columbus. The council is named after the late priest.

Three negroes, who recently were asked to join the council, were rejected when five to seven of the council's 2,000 members voted against them. National K. of C. rules say four "no" votes are enough.

Magr. Patrick Flanagan told Krecji that his brother "pioneered in Christian social advancement of the Nebraska people," always had "a generous percentage" of Negro boys in the home and for years had Dan Desdunes, a Negro, in charge of the Boys Town band.

"The selection of the council's name was meant . . . as a mark of distinction to my deceased brother," he said. "His name has now come in for unpleasant publicity . . . I must respectfully insist that his name be discontinued as a distinguished title for your society and some other name substituted that may prove more flexible in kindred cases.

115 So. 25th

WELL, here we are with a fresh morning—fresh news—and right up to the minute everything—The news this aye involves nurseries of the townsfolk who are doing an equal number of interesting things—plus a guest or two and their activities—homecomers—and some courtesies for a popular bride-elect—

SOMEHOW a trip to New York City always seems exciting, and especially so just before the holiday season gets into full swing—Just learned that Mrs. Alfred DuTeau and her sister, Mrs. D. B. Porter of Omaha, will be taking off on Saturday for New York where they will spend several days.

AND Regina, Canada, sounds fun, too—and we learned that Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Shaw are just home from there after a visit with Mrs. Shaw's sister, Mrs. Frank Walsh.

WE MENTIONED the other day that Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Jefferys of McLean, Va., were in town—the guests of Mrs. Jefferys' sisters, Mrs. W. Irl Stebbins and Mr. Stebbins; and Mrs. Donald Price, and Mr. Price.

Last Wednesday evening, so someone told us, Mr. and Mrs. Jefferys were honored when Mrs. C. W. Sanford was a dinner hostess at the Lincoln Country Club.

FRIDAY night was Coronation night for Ak-Sar-Ben royalty in Omaha, and we found many familiar faces from Lincoln among the spectators—

Mrs. Walter W. White and Mrs. Willard Folsom, whose niece, Miss Mary Whitmore, was one of the countesses from Lincoln, were there—as were Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Anderson whose daughter, Miss Agnes Anderson, also was a countess from Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson whose son, David Olson, served as Miss Anderson's escort for all of the Coronation festivities.

Then there were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. W. Joyce Ayres—and also on hand were Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson.

WONDERED if Miss Whitmore's mother, Mrs. Burton Whitmore, had come from Santa Barbara for the Coronation, and learned that she arrived several days ago—At the moment she is in Omaha, but on Monday she will come to Lincoln to spend some time as the house guest of Mrs. Willard Folsom.

THINK now we'll talk about our bride-to-be, Miss Snooky Corryell, whose marriage to Richard Claussen will be solemnized on Nov. 2—her long list of pre-nuptial courtesies, and her bridal party—

Miss Corryell has chosen her cousin, Miss Joan Boucher of Erie, Pa., as her maid of honor, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Marian Whitworth, Miss Mary Ann Zimmerman, Miss Joyce Johnson and Miss Joan Knudson.

Bruce Claussen of Houston,

Tex., will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will be Jerry Claussen, also a brother of the bridegroom; Robert Pecha, San Bernardino, Calif.; Michael Korff, Hebron; Richard Christoph and Peter Bergsten, both of Chicago; B. Noble, Jr., Littleton, Colo.; Richard Rosendahl, North Platte; Gates Minnick and Bob Stone. Complimenting Miss Corryell on Friday were Mrs. J. John Grainger and Mrs. John Grainger who entertained at luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. John Grainger.

THIS morning the soon-to-be bride will be complimented by her grandmother, Mrs. L. L. Corryell, who will be hostess at a 10:30 o'clock coffee at her home.

And on Sunday the bride-elect will again be honored when Mrs. Helen Haggie and Miss Kathryn Duerfeldt entertain at a coffee at the home of Mrs. Haggie.

NEXT week's calendar is filled to the brim with courtesies for the soon-to-be bride, and the first one is a luncheon on Tuesday, for which Mrs. George G. Swingle will be hostess when she entertains at the Lincoln Country Club.

On Wednesday Mrs. Bennett Martin will honor Miss Corryell

when she entertains at a morning coffee at her home, and on Thursday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spangler will host and hostess an hors d'oeuvres party at their home when their guest list will include members of the Walking Club.

TONIGHT is dinner dance night for the members of the Revelers Dancing Club who will dine and dance at Hotel Cornhusker. Planning the party, which has an autumn motif, is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. George Knight, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Merlin James, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guenzel and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrington.

Guests at the party will be Dr. and Mrs. Paul Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. William Padberg, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stone, Dr. Bryce Shaff, Miss Jane Kenner, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Avery of Chicago.

OFF TO Missouri Valley, Ia., on Friday went Miss Cherie Solheim who will spend the weekend as the guest of Miss Cathy Mas.

Mr. and Mrs. Solheim and the other members of the younger generation of Solheims, will go to Missouri Valley on Sunday to spend the day, and to accompany Miss Cherie home.

The Star Welcomes

Among the new families for whom we have dusted off the welcome mat this morning, are Lt. Col. and Mrs. John B. Carey and their three children, Katy, Colleen and Jackie, who have come from Tucson, Ariz., and who plan to remain members of Lincoln's populace for at least four years. Col. Carey was stationed in Japan for nine months, an officer with the 98th Bomber Division—and for a portion of his overseas duty—just two and a half months, to be specific—his family was with him. Katy is a popular member of the young crowd at Northeast Junior High School, but Colleen and Jackie belong to the small-fry set, and won't be attending school for a couple more years.

incidentally, is 16 years old—and a junior at Lincoln High School—We suspect that she will be an exceptionally popular addition to the high school set, and that her home, 2020 So. 30th, will be a very busy spot.

From the South Pacific and San Antonio, Tex., have come Lt. and Mrs. John McClothlin, and their young son, John Jr. The South Pacific angle belongs to Lt. McClothlin, who had 19 months duty there—and the San Antonio part may be claimed by Mrs. McClothlin who remained there while the lieutenant was overseas. Right now the McClothlin family are getting settled in their new home at 511 So. 13th St. Apt. 203.

A new family from Iowa—Williamsburg, to be specific—includes Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Heaney and their daughter, Dawna June. Mr. Heaney, we hear, is the new vice president of the College View bank—and we also learned that Dawna June is in the eighth grade at Irving Junior High School, and we rather suspect that she will have a straight A average—her mother is a former school teacher.

November Bride-Elect

MISS SHEILA SIREN

Mr. and Mrs. Protase A. Siren of Bismarck, N. D., formerly of Lincoln, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sheila May, to William Lloyd Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Mitchell.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, Nov. 27, at St. Teresa's Church.

Miss Siren attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Mr. Mitchell is serving with the Marines, and is stationed in North Carolina.

Extension Club Program

Capt. and Mrs. Peter Evolga and their daughter, Beverly, have just returned to the States after two years' duty in French Morocco which, although they enjoyed it, the Evolgas found a bit strenuous in spite of the fact the two riots they witnessed were considered minor ones. From where we sit it would seem that the Evolgas have a most interesting life—Prior to service in Morocco there was a tour of duty in Europe—and before that the British West Indies—But with all of the fun and the excitement the Evolgas have had abroad they seem to be happy with their serene existence in Lincoln. The young Miss Evolga, several of her original poems were read by Mrs. Henry Thaden, and the lessons on salad making and entertaining were given by Mrs. Leonard Stewart.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Merrill Stewart.

Faculty Club To Hold Dance

The University of Nebraska faculty Dancing Club will hold its first dance of the season at 9 o'clock, Saturday evening, in the Student Union ballroom. All members have been invited as guests, and hosts and hostesses will be the officers of the club.

Betrothal Announced

MISS ALICE ANNE WOLFE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Wolfe announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Alice Anne, to Robert Dalton Malone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Malone.

The wedding is planned for Wednesday, Dec. 29, at the Blessed Sacrament Church.

Mr. Malone is a former student at Creighton University, Omaha, and also attended the University of Nebraska.

Morris Jacobs, Miss Loucks King And Queen Of Ak-Sar-Ben

OMAHA (U) — Morris Elias Jacobs, who rose from a newsboy to an advertising executive, and Miss Barbara Ann Loucks, both of Omaha, Friday night were crowned 60th king and queen of Ak-Sar-Ben.

The tall, dark haired queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Crocker Loucks. Her father is president of John A. Gilchrist Co., Omaha certified public accountant.

The identity of the king and queen was revealed at a colorful coronation ceremony, inspired by the 16th century explorations in search of the fabled weather of the Indian kingdom of Quivera.

The ball annually opens the Omaha winter social season. The 1954 coronation was carried off with a theme dating back to the regency period. The spacious Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum was decorated in white, gold and emerald green.

Besides being the opening of the winter social season, the ball, which is repeated again Saturday night, is the social highlight of the year for the knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, civic organization formed by Omaha business men and industrialists in 1894 to do whatever will make Nebraska more prosperous, happier and a better place in which to live.

Jacobs, born in Omaha Aug. 7, 1896, sold newspapers while working his way through grade and high schools. After attending the University of Missouri, he returned to Omaha to be a newspaper reporter.

With the late Leo B. Bozell, he founded Bozell & Jacobs Advertising Agency in 1923, later becoming its president.

He long has been active in community activities, serving as general chairman of the 1954 Omaha centennial. He was vice chairman of the 1939 Golden Spike Days celebration and was one of the founders and general chairman of the group which later became the Omaha Industrial Foundation.

He has been active in the Chamber of Commerce, Community Chest, and the Boy Scouts of America, holding executive positions in each.

Jacobs was associate chairman of the NCAA baseball tournament in Omaha in 1952, 1953 and 1954, is a former member of the University of Omaha board of regents, and was graduated from Central High School in Omaha. She received a degree in economics from Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., in 1948.

She is known for her interest in music, golf and skiing and taken part in Community Chest, American Red Cross and Omaha Symphony Orchestra fund-raising campaigns. She is a member of the Junior League of Omaha.

He is married and has one daughter, Susie. The queen is one of four children. She attended Brownell Hall and was graduated from Central

Neighboring Countesses From Lincoln

Agnes Anderson (left) and Mary Whitmore were among the 16 countesses from neighboring realms who took part in the Ak-Sar-Ben coronation ceremonies for the mythical Kingdom of Quivera Friday night in Omaha. They appeared in regal gowns of white tulle and gold lame.

Gold coin dot sequins ornamented the pleated bodices. The extremely bouffant skirts, worn over hoops, were created of alternating panels of sequin-dotted tulle and gold lame and were completed with slight trains. Their bouquets were of stephanotis and gold eucalyptus leaves.

Both girls are graduates of Lincoln High School and are attending the University of Nebraska. Miss Whitmore is the daughter of Mrs. Burton Canfield Whitmore and the late Mr. Whitmore. Miss Anderson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Anderson. (AP Wirephotos Special to The Star)

Scheele said the accident is still under investigation for the county attorney's office.

Bauman was driving north when his car collided with one driven by James A. Shelton, Lincoln Air Force Base airman. Shelton, 20, and his wife, Margaret, 16, are hospitalized.

Utility Sues Dixon-Yates Witness

Langer Angrily Replies

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Arkansas utility Friday hurled a two million dollar slander suit against a witness in the Dixon-Yates power controversy — an action which prompted Sen. Langer (R-ND) to declare angrily he wouldn't allow any of his witnesses to be "bluffed, scared or intimidated."

The Arkansas Power & Light Co. filed the suit in Little Rock against Arthur E. McLean, a Little Rock banker who testified that the utility was "the most corrupt and ruthless corporation that ever operated within the bounds of the state."

Arkansas Power officials indicated the suit was made on past statements made by McLean, who has been at odds with the utility for years.

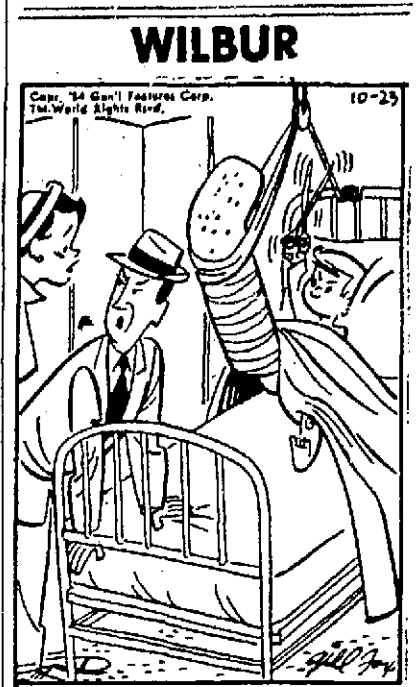

Pounds Table

Pounding the table at a public hearing, Langer exclaimed: "One thing is sure—as long as I'm chairman of this subcommittee we're not going to be bluffed, scared or intimidated, and we are not going to allow Dixon-Yates or any one else to bluff, scare or intimidate witnesses."

The senator, a critic of the Dixon-Yates contract, said that if it is

Romance On Rocks

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Charles Chaplin Jr., son of the movie comedian, said that his two-year romance with actress Susan Cooke has ended because of her desire to date other men. His announcement confirmed rumors that started when Susan returned from Europe ahead of young Chaplin after both had appeared in a German-made film. "Susan just wanted to date other men even while we were engaged," he said.

legally possible to do so he will assign Sidney Davis, the subcommittee's chief counsel, to defend McLean against the slander charges.

Davis said he would gladly offer his services if it developed that the suit was any sort of reprisal for the banker's testimony. He said the subcommittee has had some difficulty obtaining witnesses, adding that there have been indications that "others would like to testify but are afraid to."

Davis assured all witnesses that the Senate group "will not sit idly by" and allow them to be intimidated.

Welcomes Suit

McLean said he welcomed the suit.

"They are asking for the works—they're going to get it," he said.

McLean, president of the Commercial National Bank in Little Rock, said his defense will be an effort to prove the truth of what he has said about Arkansas Power & Light over a period of some years.

Langer's outburst came near the end of a hearing in which a former governor of Arkansas, Sidney McMath, testified the utility was "The most powerful political influence in Arkansas... an unhealthy influence, not conducive to good government."

He said it tries to "crush" any elective officer who recognizes "there is a people's side to any conflict" with power interests. He declared the company employed money and influence to beat him for a third term as governor in 1952 because he favored the building of a steam power generating plant by a group of cooperatives.

NU Seeks First Win At Boulder

Colorado Two Touchdown Favorite As Huskers Go Into 'Big Game'

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star
DENVER, Colo.—A plane full of eager University of Nebraska football players arrived here Friday afternoon, refreshed after a pleasant flight from Lincoln and talking about only one thing—beating Colorado today for the first time at Boulder.

The squad got a little extra in the way of entertainment when the airport here was busy as the big Cornhusker plane approached and the pilot—in order to pass the time—gave the players a ride over the Rocky Mountains.

Immediately after arriving, the squad went to its headquarters, the Park-Lane Hotel, and then held a short workout on the South High gridiron.

'Already Beaten'

To a man, the atmosphere was one of determination and desire to whip the cocky Buffaloes. The attitude prevailing in Denver Friday was that Nebraska might just as well have stayed home because the Huskers are already defeated. Oklahoma—next week's foe—is the only thing concerning Coloradans, actually, and local talk is that the Sooners are beaten, too.

Dal Ward, Colorado coach, has been suffering from a slipped disc in his back and has been able to attend workouts only since Wednesday. He has been fitted with a special brace to relieve the severe pain and gets around in an electric golf cart. He'll be riding at the game Saturday.

Colorado will be captained by Carroll Hardy and Frank Bernardi, both standouts among a bevy of polished ball carriers that have the west slope of the majestic Rockies practically aglow with Orange Bowl fever.

A crowd of some 32,000 is expected to witness the homecoming game, in which the Buffaloes have been installed as 14-point favorites.

Add Color

One report circulating around Denver Friday was that the annual homecoming parade at Boulder would be postponed until next week in order to add more color to the "championship" game between the Buffs and the Sooners, and because the Nebraskans were easy prey.

None of the Colorado cockiness was having any effect on the Huskers, though. The consensus among the players, coaches, trainers and Col. Floyd Bortoff, equipment manager, was that Colorado still has 60 minutes of football to play before the Oklahoma game and the Huskers were going to do everything possible to make it a busy 60 minutes today.

On hand to greet the Huskers upon their arrival was a delegation of Denver alumni, including Harold Hunt and Butch Larson, as well as Chancellor and Mrs. Hardin and Athletic Director Bill Orwig.

Dan Brown, senior quarterback on the No. 1 Husker unit, will captain the Nebraskans and will direct the Split T offense and defense while he's on the field for his stunts during the Nebraska team-a-quarter onslaught.

Colorado operates a Single Wing attack and substitutes frequently either by unit or individually, so the game may be decided on depth alone.

Game Ends In Tie

WASHINGTON (U)—George Washington and William and Mary played a 13-13 tie tonight in a grimly contested defensive football battle marked by fumbles, pass interceptions and muffed scoring opportunities.

Cathedral Rolls Over Johawks

Bluebirds Pound Omaha Foe, 33-6

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member
A fast, crisp-blocking Cathedral line went Hawk-hunting Friday night and Cathedral beat Omaha St. Joseph, 33-6, at College View field.

The Cathedral line mowed down Johawks right and left so Bluebird backs John Glynn, Bill Hoepfner, Don Flynn and Clancy could better display their offensive power before a homecoming crowd.

It was Cathedral's homecoming king, tackle Mike Cowan, who led the Bluebird offensive line. Guard Allen Parks and tackle Don Penner also stood out in a string of good linemen.

Glynn, who played his best game at quarterback, wouldn't let Cathedral be stopped. He and Clancy Woolman did most of the work in a series of short smashes which ended with a five-yard touchdown run by Glynn. Penner kicked the conversion.

Cathedral's 7-0 lead was shot by St. Joe midway in the second period, after wee Richie Konan intercepted a Bluebird pass on the 14.

Ted Novesky and Tom Theiler moved St. Joe to the two and Novesky bucked over to give the Johawks new hope.

Cathedral used a long, late pass and a dash of four-leaf shamrocks for its second touchdown. The Burds boosted their lead from 7-6 to 13-6 on the last play of the first half.

Flynn shot a last-second pass to end Jack Harris. St. Joe halfback Theiler jumped high to bat down the pass—but Irish luck didn't fail. The ball plopped into the arms of Mike Costin. Cathedral halfback, and he romped over the goal.

Cathedral rolled 59 yards against the tiring Josies for a quick touchdown in the third period. Woolman did the heavy ground work, and a 22-yard pass from Hoepfner to Flynn set up the score. Flynn went three yards on a quick opener to score the third Cathedral touchdown.

The fourth Cathedral tally followed a 60-yard march in the latter part of the third quarter. Glynn marshalled a drive around right end to score.

A 67-yard drive led to the final touchdown, scored by Woolman on a four-yard crossback over left guard.

St. Joseph scored 0-0-0-6-13. Cathedral 7-6-13-7-33. St. Joseph scoring: Touchdown, Novesky. Cathedral scoring: Touchdowns, Glynn, Costin, Flynn, 2. Woolman. Conversions, Penner 3 (placement).

Kansas State Frosh Win By 19-13 On Fumbles

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member
Kansas State's freshman football team took advantage of Nebraska fumbles to score two if its touchdowns in a 19-13 win over the Husker freshman Friday afternoon.

Bobbles took the heart out of a good Nebraska running game, led by the sharp blocking of several forwards.

Guards Bob McIntyre and Joe Sadowski, tackles Frank Del Duca and Don Rhoda, and End Stu Howerter showed promise in their first competition as Huskers. Their blocking and tackling was outstanding as Nebraska out-charged Kansas State.

All-States
McIntyre, an Omaha North graduate, was a Sunday Journal and Star all-state guard last year. Howerter is from Omaha Benson and Rhoda was an all-Class B tackle at York. Sadowski and Del Duca from Sturteville.

Frank Nappi, Gene Haman and Dick Prusia were Nebraska's backfield leaders. Nappi, of Portland, Me., and Haman, from Omaha Central, showed good speed and Prusia, a Franklin native, hit with power.

A backfield combination of Nappi, Joe Smith, Keith Rapalje and Jerry Brown. Minden moved the ball 22 yards to the K-State 22 in seven plays. A pass interception stopped the drive but the Huskers gained possession shortly when Del Duca recovered a fumble on the three.

Smith made two yards on a wedge play and Prusia scored on a quick opener.

A Nebraska fumble on the first play following a K-State punt led to the Little Wildcats' tying touchdown. John Keelan recovered on Nebraska's 21.

A 16-yard run by Charles Morris and a penalty put Kansas State on the one. Quarterback Richard Corbin bulled over to tie the score on the first play of the second quarter.

Nebraska fumbled on its 25 late in the period to set up Kansas State's second touchdown. Twenty yards of penalties and three plays later, Kansas State had a 12-6 halftime lead as Quarterback Jim McCormick wedged over from a yard out.

Sadowski intercepted a K-State pass to start Nebraska rolling early in the third quarter. Sadowski's grab gave the Huskers possession on the Kitties' 21, and a pass interference call moved the ball to the 12.

Smith and Prusia made 10 yards before Smith went over from the two on a keep. Prusia converted for a 13-12 lead.

Kansas State retaliated with a quick 64-yard scoring drive.

A 23-yard pass from Morris to Del Eckart and a 24-yard touchdown pass from Ray Glaze to Jerry Bower ate up most of the yardage. Bill Hogan's conversion added the final point.

Kansas State 0-12-7-0-19. Nebraska 6-0-0-13. Kansas State scoring: Touchdowns, McGee, Corbin, Bower. Conversions, Hogan. Nebraska scoring: Touchdowns, Prusia, Smith. Conversions, Prusia (placement).

Krhounek, Lee Galois Lead Lincoln Past South, 53-19

By GEORGE PAYNICH
Star Sports Staff Member

Omaha South found the only perceptible weak "Link" in the Lincoln High School grid machine—a spotty defense, but similar to other vanquished Lincoln foes, the visitors lacked the necessary talent to capitalize on the weakness and absorbed a 53-19 shellacking at the hands of the mythical state championship-bound Capital City club Friday night before 4,000 delighted homecoming fans at the Lincoln High Oval.

The visiting Packers, who sport a 2-5 season mark, were unable to cope with the single-wing power running of Messrs. Mike Lee, Roger Krhounek and Ron Galois.

Lee powered for three markers while the elusive Krhounek, who has all the necessary equipment to become a great runner, including a dazzling change of pace, glided to two markers to do most of the damage.

The dependable Galois, who runs from the wing back spot and combines fine speed with power running as his greatest asset, tallied once.

6-0 season mark, needed only ten plays and 3:40 to score the first of their eight touchdowns in the rout.

Mike Lee, the powerful senior fullback, scored for the Links on a two-yard plunge to cap an opening march of 60 yards. The Packers, who displayed their best defensive play of the evening on the PAT tries, halted Marvin Jacobs on his conversion try.

The Links came right back with another smart maneuver which led to their second marker. Dwight Mierhenry, sophomore center who looks like a great line prospect, fell on an inside kick on the Packer 38 and in two plays the Links hit paydirt again. Galois traveled 21 yards and then Lee nimbly stepped to his second touchdown from 18 yards out after digging away from clutching Packer hands on the 17. Bob Lamphere's pass for the PAT attempt was incomplete.

Sutey Over
The Packers came right back to score as John Imig traveled all the way to the Lincoln 23 yard line on the ensuing kickoff before being hauled down from behind. The two fine Omaha South backs, Otto Sutey and Don Roberts, powered the attack goalward before Sutey scored from the four.

Sutey's PAT plunge was good. Lincoln widened the margin to 19-7 with 40 seconds left in the first quarter when Krhounek went 23 yards over his own left tackle for the score.

The Links used three consecutive second quarter Packer fumbles in scoring three touchdowns.

Outstanding Carry
After a Packer fumble was recovered by Jack Duffek on the Lincoln 43, Lee and Galois moved the ball to the visitor's 46 where Krhounek put on the evening's outstanding ball-toting exhibition.

Roger took a pitchout, skirted his own right end and utilizing his amazing change of pace ability the 158 pound senior glided 46 yards to score. Lee passed to Gary Smith for the PAT and a 26-7 Lincoln lead.

Gail Baum's recovery of a Packer fumble on the South 32 led to the next Link TD. Krhounek wound up and uncorked a 32 yard aerial to Gary Smith who faked the last Packer defender out of position and then scored. Lee's pass to Smith for the PAT was incomplete.

The alert Links, who are quite adept at recovering enemy fumbles did it again on the first Packer attempt. Marvin Jacobs recovered on the South 38 and Lee went for the necessary yardage on the first Lincoln try to make the score 39-7. Marty Perez bulled for the PAT to stretch it to 39-7 at halftime.

Galois burst into the scoring column for the first time in the third period. He scored on a 15 yard run after the Lincoln club had gained possession of the ball on a blocked punt.

Roberts gave the Packer fans something to cheer about in the third period as he outran the entire Lincoln club for a 37 yard touchdown run with 1:20 left. Victor Shukis' pass was no good for the PAT try.

Both clubs tallied in the long fourth frame. Hann scored from the one with 3:14 gone and the Packers finished the free-scoring evening with 39 seconds left on a 3 yard pass play from Shukis to Kennedy.

Rockets Ramble To 34-6 Victory Over Fairbury

Lincoln Star Special

FAIRBURY—Northeast's Rockets displayed a sound aerial attack in the first half and then turned on a superb ground game in the second half here Friday night to smother the Fairbury Jeffs 34-6.

The Rockets led 14-6 at halftime, but in the second period Northeast started grinding out the yardage on the ground to score another 20 points and pile up 232 yards rushing in 25 plays.

The winners utilized John Douthit's strong throwing arm to score the first two times. On the fourth play of the game, Douthit threw a perfect strike to Larry Bryant who carried into the end-zone. The play covered 77 yards.

But Douthit was far from through. In the second quarter he unleashed another long toss, this time to Harry Large, who carried the ball over. This one exceeded the first scoring play by one yard—78 yards.

Fairbury counted before the half, however, when Ron Ward broke through his right side for 65 yards and the touchdown. The conversion attempt failed.

After the halftime, which included music by both the Fairbury and Northeast bands, the strong Northeast line began to push its opponents around and the Rockets began to rack up the yardage on power plays.

In the third quarter after a sustained drive from their own territory, the Rockets pushed Dick Beachell over from two yards out and Bill Lundy converted.

In the fourth quarter, Douthit again proved the thorn in the Jeffs side as he went over from two yards out again on a keeper play. Lundy again converted.

Then as unnecessary insurance, Harry Large took the ball with two minutes left, and on an end-around play, carried over from 11 yards out.

The entire Northeast line stood out as a strong force in the win. For the losers, Ward and Halfback Dennis Huston were strong on offense, while Don Cooper and Bob Smith carried the big load in the line.

A fourth-down pass from Lew Brown to Bob Erickson gave College View life on the 10. Harvey needed only two plays to score with three minutes left in the period.

A 35-yard Brown to Erickson pass set up the second Harvey score. The aerial carried to Wilber's five-yard line and Harvey went the remaining distance to tie the score. Hatcher dove for the winning PAT.

Max Kobler scored twice on runs of 55 and 25 yards.

Lincoln 19-20-7-7-53. Fairbury 7-0-6-6-13. Northeast scoring: Touchdowns, Large, 2 (placements), Lundy, 2 (placements). Fairbury scoring: Touchdown, Ward.

32nd Test For NWU, Warriors

Lincoln Star Special
FREMONT — Nebraska Wesleyan University and Midland College will lock horns here in a Nebraska College Conference battle this afternoon at 2 p.m.

The game — the 32nd revival of an old Nebraska college rivalry which dates back to 1919 — will highlight homecoming activities on the Midland campus here.

The Warriors, coached by Woody Greene and sporting two wins and two losses in conference competition, will depend chiefly on a stout running game sparked by diminutive Don Winter and the accurate aerial efforts of Quarterback Ron Donahue who has thrown well all season to slippery fingered mates.

The Plainsmen, spearheaded by Cliff Kahl, Bob Starr and Sanford Nelson, showed a passing attack for the first time this year against Wayne and will probably depend entirely on their strong running game to move up in conference standings.

Geneva Rolls Over Sutton

Tecumseh Roars Past Syracuse

Lincoln Star Special
SYRACUSE—Walt Huff scored three touchdowns and Jack Stinson two for powerful Tecumseh in a 38-0 defeat of Syracuse Friday.

The passing of Quarterback Bob Finn was excellent. The tall senior hit a high percentage of his tosses and directed the smooth Indian offense against the Rockets.

Stinson ran 55 and 30 yards to score. Huff went nine and 40 yards and caught a pass from Finn for another 40-yard TD.

Tom Wherry scored the final touchdown. Harland and Ramsey kicked both extra points.

Three Cities Are Designated Today's Football 'Capitals'

Possible prime bowl bids and the prestige of high national rank are prizes which make Columbus, Los Angeles and Little Rock the football capitals of the nation Saturday.

At Columbus, Ohio, two unbeaten-united giants of the Big Ten—Wisconsin, No. 2 ranked nationally, and Ohio State, No. 4—clash in a game which Midwest observers figure points the way to the conference championship and the lush Rose Bowl assignment.

The other end of the Pasadena Bowl axis conceivably could be determined at Los Angeles where Southern California, the favorite, meets California in the highlight of the Pacific Coast campaign.

UCLA, the dominant power on the Coast and the country's No. 3 team, is ineligible to return to the bowl, as is the Big Ten's Michigan State, under the no-repeat rules of the arrangement.

Little Rock, deep in the Razorback country, is the neutral site of an inter-conference battle between two other undefeated elevens both with definite bowl aspirations—Mississippi and Arkansas.

What're You Doing New Year's? Mississippi, fifth-ranked, has designs on the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans while seventh-ranked Arkansas, surprise conqueror of Texas Christian, Baylor and Texas on successive weekends, has its eyes on the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

By an odd pre-season arrangement born of desperation, the Razorbacks could knock Ole Miss out of the Sugar Bowl by scoring a victory, but the Mississippians can't hurt Arkansas' Southwest Conference record.

Unable to schedule the required six Southeast Conference games, Mississippi was permitted to count Arkansas a league test. Mississippi rule a 7½ point favorite.

Most of the other teams in the select Top Ten circle have relatively easy assignments. An exception is unbeaten Minnesota, No. 8, which invades Michigan, a bare touchdown favorite in their traditional "Little Brown Jug" series.

Top-ranked Oklahoma has another breather in Kansas State at Norman, Okla. UCLA is at Oregon.

NCC Best Set Tonight At Hastings

Lincoln Star Special
HASTINGS — Saturday night at eight o'clock at the A. H. Jones Memorial Stadium on the Hastings College campus, the game of the year in Nebraska College Conference football competition will unfold, the feature of Hastings College's Homecoming festivities.

Peru was last beaten in mid-season in 1951, when Kearney State upset them 19-14. The Bobcats picked up from there and went on to win the conference crowns in '52 and '53. Fittingly enough the Kearney Antelopes were first to break the Peruvian 26-win streak last week.

In the 8 years that the NCC has been in existence, Hastings has failed to win a single championship.

Lose By TD
The last three seasons Hastings has come out of the fray second best by a touchdown. The Bobcats have won 13-6, 14-6, and 27-20. Hastings players and fans hope it goes the other way this season and would settle for a one touchdown edge.

Hugh Osmera, who led for seven laps and fell 20 yards behind on the final trip around the Memorial Stadium, came in with a fine finish kick to edge two Kansas State runners in a two-mile meet Friday.

Osmera's time was scored as a cross-country event, 17-19. Rest of the finish:

2—Darl Michel (KS); 3—Hubert Guest (KS); 4—Glen Taplin (KS); 5—E. E. Butler (NY); 6—Lee Carter (NY); 7—Merrill Mason (NY); 8—Walt Hicks (KS).

Prep Rambles For Sixteenth In Row

Lincoln Star Special
OMAHA — Creighton Prep won its sixteenth straight football victory Friday night by piling up a 32-0 lead over Omaha Tech and coasting to a 39-13 triumph.

Halfbacks Bob Varley and Don Moran ran for two touchdowns each and Leo Von Tersch and Mike Tassian scored once apiece, but it was the pin-point passing of Quarterback Mike Dugan which really opened the Maroon defense.

Dugan hit his receivers for heavy passing yardage as Prep drove down the field on four long scoring marches.

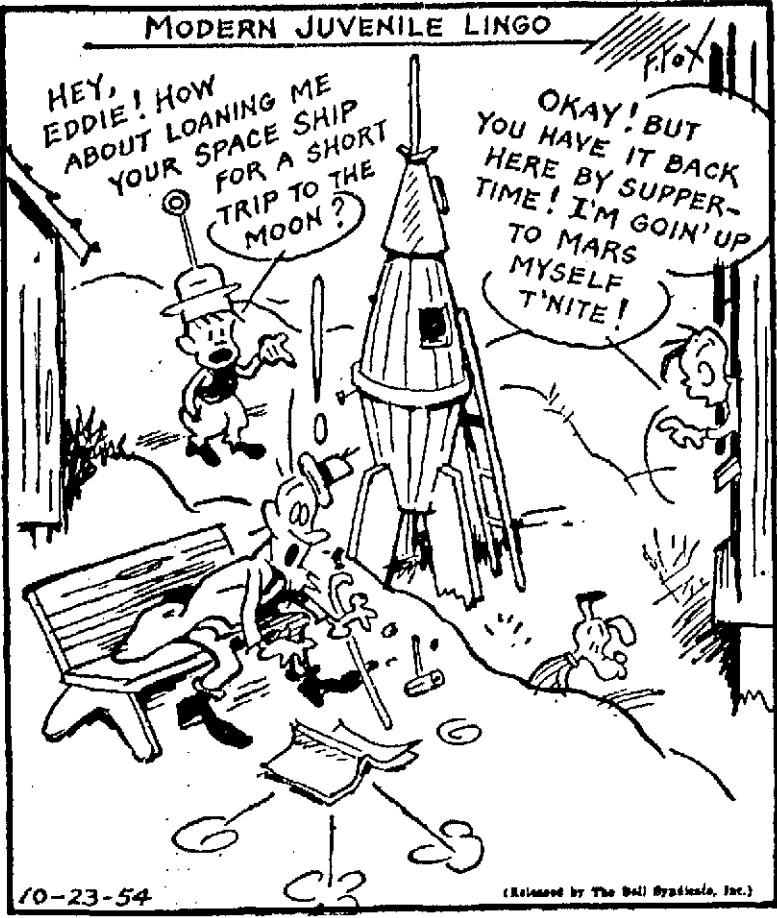

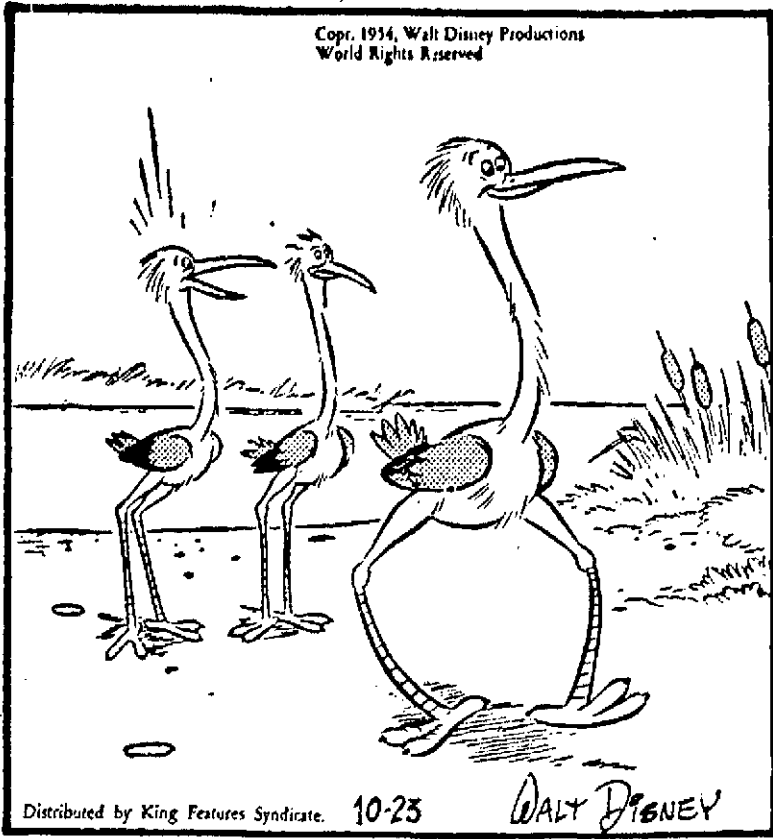

The Prep line, playing its best game of the season, threw the Maroons back within their own five-yard line twice, took possession of the ball and bucked across.

Paul Saggau kicked one PAT and Dugan two.

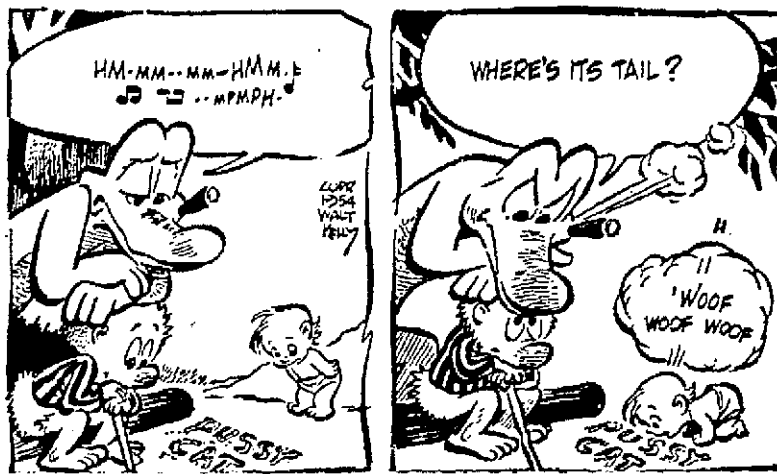

Prep scoring: Touchdowns, Dugan 2; Conversions, 2; Johnson 3.

Omaha Tech scoring: Touchdowns, Johnson 3; Conversions, 2; Johnson 3.
